COMPANY PROFILE

OMB Sistemas Electrónicos S.A. develops, manufactures and commercializes television and radio transmission systems. It was born in 1985 with the aim of satisfying the increasing existing demand of broadcasting equipment with high quality and with the use of the latest technology. On 1990 it founds its branch in the United States, from where it manages the American market. Its commitment with the quality and the environment is guaranteed for being one of the first European companies in the field in obtaining and maintaining certificates ISO 9001:2000 and ISO 14001:2004.

The qualified equipment of R&D works to allow that all OMB equipment at any time fulfills the everyday more and more demanding requirements of the customers, like the development of complete transmitters of terrestrial digital television, gapfillers with self-cancelling system or digital microwave links for radio and television.

OMB has been attending actively for more than 15 years to all the editions of the most relevant broadcasting events of international impact: CABSAT in Dubai, NAB in Las Vegas, Broadcast Asia in Singapore and IBC in Amsterdam, besides - directly or through its distributors - in multiple events of local character. At the moment OMB, with a staff next to the forty people with a high technical profile and more than resisted experience in the broadcasting field, exports from their new facilities in Saragossa 80% of their production to more than 90 countries all over the world.
